DOUBLE THE FUN

With this month's opening of a Merchandise Mart showroom that includes a bar overlooking the Chicago River and an in-house chef to prepare meals for special events in a live demonstration space, Sub-Zero Wolf takes the concept of the kitchen as entertaining showplace to new heights. When the two pioneering brands—widely considered the industry standard-bearers for chef-quality home kitchens—join forces, the results are often like what we see here: chic but functional, and with just enough drama to get the conversation started. subzero.com
